Introduction

The research studies prepared for the Macdonald Royal Commission (on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada) deal with fundamental policy issues facing Canada now and in the coming decades. Research covered the topics of economics, politics, institutions of government, and the constitution, among others. These studies provide an important resource for both students and researchers investigating these topics. As such, it was felt that an index was needed to provide access to the information contained in these studies.

Notes About the Index

This index provides "author" and "keyword" access to the research studies. All 72 studies were indexed, initially, using the publication list found in volume 3 of the final report of the commission ¹. Ultimately, each study was consulted individually. Several omissions and changes in the published list were discovered through this process. Individual volumes were considered the final word for indexing.

Two exceptions exist. Studies 19 and 71 were not published, but have been indexed here on the assumption that they may be published in the future.

Each index entry consists of the Author, Volume Number, and Title (of the article or study). Research coordinators (persons coordinating the articles found in one or more studies) have been indexed under "Research Coordinator(s)" in the keyword index. The volume numbers of all studies under their supervision are provided.

¹ Canada. Parliament. House of Commons. Report of the Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada. Volume 3., 1985. pp. 679-690.

Indexing was completed using the program PROCITE ¹ on an IBM PC XT compatible microcomputer. Final formatting and printing was accomplished using a MACINTOSH SE microcomputer with a Laserwriter printer.
